American Lacrosse Conference Names Academic Honor Roll

98 student-athletes honored for academic success

July 17, 2009

The eighth annual American Lacrosse Conference Academic Honor Roll, noting academic excellence by student-athletes for the 2008-09 school year, contains 98 performers as announced by Commissioner Peggy Pruitt. Student-athletes who maintained a GPA of 3.0 or better during the 2008-09 academic year were eligible for the Honor Roll. Appearing on the list are nine members of the ALC All-Conference first team, including ALC Player of the Year and Tewaaron recipient Hannah Nielsen from Northwestern. Eight of the 12 members of the ALC All-Conference second team also appear on the ALC Honor Roll. The 2009 ALC Rookie of the Year Alayna Markwordt from Ohio State and 2009 ALC Goalie of the Year Morgan Lathrop from Northwestern are also Honor Roll honorees.

NCAA and ALC champion Northwestern led all schools with 24 honorees, while Vanderbilt ranked second with 23 and Penn State, the ALC runner-up, had 22.
